

Bally's Intralot and Qualco Group Join the "Euronext Tech Leaders" Segment

Athens, May 27, 2026

Today, Euronext Athens welcomed executives, management teams, and partners of Bally's Intralot and Qualco Group on the occasion of their inclusion in the Euronext Tech Leaders segment. Mr. Robeson Reeves, CEO of Bally's Intralot, Mr. Orestis Tsakalotos, Executive Chairman of the Board of Directors of Qualco Group, and Mr. Miltiades Georgantzis, CEO of Qualco Group, rang the opening bell for today's trading session.

Euronext Tech Leaders was created to support and showcase Europe's leading and high-growth technology companies. The initiative today includes more than 100 companies across Europe, representing a broad and dynamic technology ecosystem with approximately €800 billion in aggregated market capitalization.

"Today's ceremony is not only about celebrating two very successful Greek technology companies. It is also about recognizing the growing role of Greece within the European technology and innovation landscape. Bally's Intralot and Qualco Group are excellent examples of Greek companies with strong technology DNA, international ambition and significant growth potential. Through innovation, resilience and strategic vision, they have established a strong presence in highly competitive sectors and are contributing to the international visibility of Greek entrepreneurship. At Euronext Athens, we are particularly proud to support companies that innovate, expand internationally and help shape the future of the Greek economy through technology and entrepreneurship," noted, among other things, the CEO of Euronext Athens, Yianos Kontopoulos.

Robeson Reeves, CEO of the Bally's' Intralot Group said: "We are proud to join the Euronext Tech Leaders, showcasing Greece within this prestigious European technology segment. This recognition reflects Bally's Intralot's evolution into one of the most trusted and scaled iGaming and lottery technology partners worldwide. Our success is built on the trust of governments, regulators, and operators, and on the exceptional talent of our people, especially the engineering capability we continue to grow in Greece. With our platforms processing billions of transactions across regulated markets, we are using AI to strengthen our products, enhance security, and raise the game for our partners and players, reinforcing our commitment to innovation.”

Orestis Tsakalotos, Executive Chairman of Qualco Group, highlighted: “Our inclusion in the Euronext Tech Leaders is a milestone for Qualco Group. It is the recognition of 25 years of expertise, hard work, and an unwavering belief that European technology can lead on the global stage. Qualco Group will continue to help transform the FinTech ecosystem, shifting it towards Deep Tech while promoting Greek innovation and entrepreneurship. We are proud to join this distinguished community of Europe's most innovative and fast-growing technology companies. We accept this honour and continue with the same commitment to our clients, our people, and our shareholders.”

Miltiadis Georgantzis, CEO of Qualco Group, added: “Our inclusion in the Euronext Tech Leaders is a recognition of the collective effort of our 1,250+ people, our clients, our partners, and our shareholders. In our first year as a listed company, we achieved revenues of €216 million, exceeding our growth expectations and fully delivering on our profitability commitments to our investors. We integrated live artificial intelligence products into our portfolio and secured significant contracts with international clients and European institutions. This recognition strengthens our resolve for Qualco Group to become the leading AI-first European player in the fintech ecosystem.”
